

“We Live in a Small World”

We are a very fortunate and blessed family. Our two children attend All Saints' Academy and partake in some of the theatrical opportunities offered there. This year, an amazing opportunity was made available to us. That was the chance to house a student, in the Russian Folk Troupe, Roman, which would be performing at All Saints' Academy. We were able to open our home and make Roman feel like he was part of our own family. We have a son whose age is very close to Roman's so they have very similar interests; playing games on the PS3, rope swing, zip line, knee boarding, boating, tubing, and air soft guns. In return, we learned about how children from other parts of the world are very much the same as our children even though they are raised in very different cultures and conditions/environment.

It is such a joy to us to spend time with such a remarkable young man such as Roman. We look forward to his return someday. We thank All Saints' Academy for this enriching experience.

The MacDougall's